

DR. RUTH HAS LIVED A ROLLER-COASTER LIFE!

She's been an orphan and a soldier; a professor and a star; a struggling new immigrant in America. Dr. Ruth Westheimer's resilience and love of life have helped her succeed through a lifetime of challenges. No matter the situation, she found a way to come through it standing tall - even at 4'7"!

"There's not much more awesomely surreal than a graphic novel—a comic book, honestly!—about the life of Dr. Ruth. Her life is inspiring, her story is amazing, and this format is as creative and hilarious as she is. Brilliant."

—Mayim Bialik, Neuroscientist and Actress, Big Bang Theory

"An inspiring story of the triumph of the human spirit—and a great comic! What more could you want?"

—Steve Sheinkin, author and illustrator of the Rabbi Harvey Series

For my four grandchildren, Ari, Leora, Michal, and Ben, who were the inspiration for this book and who inspire me every day with their talents, family values, and love for their Omi.
- R.K.W.

For my three grandchildren, Jude, Rhys, and Isabelle. For Rich and Rhoda, Bill and Bev, and Julie most of all.

If I teach you something by which you shall live, will you learn it?
-Talmud Sanhedrin

The song that Karola sings on the train is excerpted from the song "Jeder Mensch auf der Welt." It begins:

Every person in the world
Has his own country
And there he is at home
Only one people in the world has no homeland of their own
And every day there stands before them
The eternal Jewish question,
Whither Jew?
Who in the world will take you?
Where can you be safe?

The flashbacks in this book are all based on real events.
The amusement park story is fictional.

Karola Ruth Siegel!
What are you doing!?

Omi, the geese should be free!

Karola, people should be free.
Geese?

Geese should stay in their pen!

Don't worry, Omi!

We'll cooof
catch them!

QUONK

QUONK

QUONK

Karola, I know you care about everyone's feelings, even geese!

But geese are happier in their pen than on Mr. Schwartz's table, ja?

Ja. I'm sorry, Omi. But...we had fun, didn't we?

We did! Life is about finding the good in every experience.

So, nu, I got some schmutz on my dress. But I was with my Karola the whole time! How could I not be happy?

2018

Hey, kids! Did you two get taller, or did I get shorter?

Maybe both?

One senior citizen and two children, please.

That will be sixty-two dollars and...oh! Oh my goodness!

It's YOU! It's DR. RUTH! It's YOU!

Yes. It's definitely me!

I just love, love, love you!

When you were on TV, you always made me laugh. I still follow you on social media.

Do you think I could get your autograph?

HALL OF MIRRORS

I want to take this mirror home.

I haven't been taller than the two of you in years.

Look at me, I'm all stretched out.

Omi, look at my smile!

This is a little much, I think! But my father—he had the most wonderful smile....

1938

Come, Karola. We must hurry. It's almost time for Shabbat.

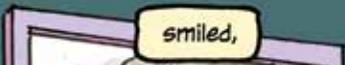

Can we get an ice cream, like always, Daddy?

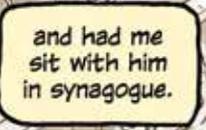

Of course! But only if we get there before sundown, before Shabbat starts.

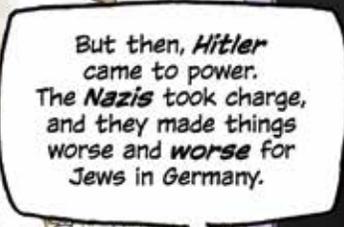

He took me for ice cream,

smiled,

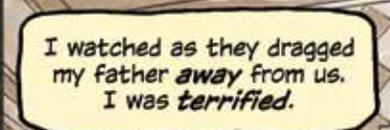

and had me sit with him in synagogue.

But then, Hitler came to power. The Nazis took charge, and they made things worse and worse for Jews in Germany.

One terrible day, two soldiers came to our little apartment.

I watched as they dragged my father away from us. I was terrified.

I'm sure he was, too!

But he still managed to look up at me and give me one last smile, a smile of strength and love—just for me.
